

Are you ready for another change? Fall is coming, it took a long time for Spring and Summer to get here this year, and now all the sudden we are supposed to be ready for Fall!! In the Fall we see the beautiful changes of nature, the colors are awesome, the weather is relaxingly cool, and our minds adjust to the changes and upcoming events. That isn't always easy, so many things have happened during this COVID time, but yet we move on, change is inevitable but yet we need it, I can't imagine living where nothing ever changes can you? That would be dull!! Along with changes comes regrets, have you ever been able to change anything because of regrets, no, we move on, we find the joys in the past and make the necessary changes for the future. So how are you going to change this Fall? Put the regrets behind you? Enjoy the changes, and make the best of them? I think that's our purpose on earth, to make the good changes necessary with and for those we love. Happy Changing!!!!!!
